NEUHAUSEL BROTHERS

429-431-433 SUMMIT STREET, TOLEDO, OHIO.

The week commencing March 29th, will be one of the greatest musical events in the history of Cincinnati. The Metropolitan Opera Company of 350 members accompanied by the Theodore Thomas orchestra of 60 pieces will be the leading attraction at Music Hall while the lovers of comic opera will be entertained at the Grand Opera House by the Francis Wilson Opera Company. The Grand Opera at the Music Hall, as well as the comic opera at the Grand Opera House, and the other vaudeville and standard attractions at the other theaters, will be given at popular prices, enabling the people for an investment of a very few dollars to enjoy Grand Opera, rendered by the same people, for whom New Yorkers paid as high as $50.00 a seat in the Metropolitan Opera House, New York City.

Recognizing the importance of this occasion and the desire of the people to see those great entertainments, which only occur once in a great many years, the C. H. & D. will put in a very low rate from all important stations, tributary to Cincinnati and will make special arrangements on reasonable terms for private cars or special schedules.

If you are thinking of attending the Opera, with a party call on the C. H. & D. Ry. agent, and let him make your arrangements. April 4

THE GRIZZLY EATS PEANUTS.

Comments on the Bear's Apparent Fondness for Them.

A man who stood in front of the bear pit at the menagerie in Central park was greatly interested in observing just how the big grizzly bear took the peanuts that one of the visitors was handing to him, says the New York Sun. The bear stood up at an angle of about 45 degrees, hind feet on the floor of the pit, one fore foot resting on the stone ledge in which the bars of the cage are imbedded, the other extended through the bars to take the peanuts. He did not clutch them under his claws and then turn the claws inward upon the ball of his foot, but when he reached out through the bars he spread his claws apart sideways, as one might spread the fingers of his hand apart. The visitors would place a peanut between two of the claws, and then the bear would close the claws together, as one would close the fingers of his outstretched hand. He would hold the peanut between two claws in the same manner that a man sometimes holds a cigar between two fingers. Holding it thus the bear would carry the peanut to his mouth; then thrusting his paw out between the bars again he would open his claw out sideways as before, waiting for another.

"I suppose it must be an acquired taste," said a solemn-faced bystander, referring to the bear's apparent fondness for peanuts.

"I don't know," said another man. "I'm not so sure but what there are some places where grizzlies live that peanuts grow."

"That may be," said the solemn-faced man, "but I'm sure there's no place where they grow baked."

Superstitious Manxmen.
Of civilized peoples, the Manxmen are said to be the most superstitious.

A railroad collision is a thing not to be desired by the railroad company. The disaster near Atlantic City last summer, when 41 persons were killed in a crash, it is reported has cost the two roads $1,000,000 in settlement of claims, and the end is not yet.

From the bureau of statistics it is learned that the number of failures in the United States from 1870 to 1895, inclusive, was 177,389. The total liabilities of these men aggregate the enormous sum of $2,611,521,704.

Excessive snuff chewing recently caused entire loss of mind to a colored woman of Atlanta, Ga. The villainous habit's ought to be destroyed any mind.

Arrangements have been completed between the C. H. & D., I. D. & W. and Wabash Railways, by which mileage tickets of either of these lines, will be accepted for passage, between Indianapolis, Decatur, Quincy, Hannibal and intermediate stations, over these three lines.

Your Representative in Congress.

Will be as much interested in this question as yourself as it bears upon a subject in which the entire people are interested and that is which is the best route to Washington, the Capital of the United States? We claim the distinction for the Buckeye Route, as being best, because in connection with the B. & O. R. R. via Athens, it forms the shortest and most direct line from Northern and Central Ohio points. In connection with the B. & O. R. R., through vestibuled Pullman Sleeping and Drawing room cars of the most approved pattern are run every day in the year, leaving Toledo at 4:55 p. m., reaching Washington next day noon and Baltimore 1:35 p. m. This route takes you via the Historic Potomac, Harpers Ferry and the Blue Ridge Mountains. Solid trains are run from Toledo to Athens, connecting with the Royal Blue Line through to New York via Washington, Baltimore and Philadelphia, carrying elegant day coaches and superb vestibuled sleeping cars through without change. Please keep this fact in mind when you have occasion to go east and see that the tickets read via the Buckeye Route and the Royal Blue Line. Agents of the C. H. & D. Ry. will secure you sleeping car berths, check your baggage and see you started right. May 1

VOICES OF CONGRESSMEN.

Many Representatives Have Won Celebrity by Lung Power.

There is always some one member of the house who possesses a voice far superior in depth and volume to that of any of the other members, which in itself serves to give the member possessing it a certain reputation. In the present house, says the Washington Post, this voice is possessed by Marriott Brosius, of the Tenth Pennsylvania district. Mr. Brosius has a faculty of talking so loud at times that the people in the galleries cannot distinguish what he says. Another Pennsylvanian who possessed a similarly powerful voice was the late W. D. Kelley, commonly known as "Pig Iron" Kelley. In his day he held the voice record against all comers until Charles H. Van Wyck, of New York, who was afterward a senator from Nebraska, appeared on the scene. His voice was even greater than that of Mr. Kelley. Back in the old days the greatest voice known to congress was that of the late William Allen, of Ohio, whose statue now stands in Statuary hall at the capitol. It is told of Mr. Allen, when he was in the house, before the days of railroads, that one of his colleagues left for his home in Ohio. The day after he was gone, Allen lamented the fact that he had taken his departure so soon, as he wanted to consult him about some measure which had come up suddenly. "That needn't trouble you, Allen," said a fellow-member. "He hasn't got across the Alleghenies yet. Just go out on the balcony and call him back."

DIDN'T WORK WITH A SKUNK.

Hose Method of Hunting Seems to Be for Rabbits Only.

The Sun recently told of a man who hunted rabbits with a hose, and got them. The Sportsman's Review tells how other men tried the same scheme in a Chicago suburb, and why one of them wishes he hadn't. The way to hunt rabbits with a hose is to push the hose down into the rabbit hole, and have men guard all the exits, while somebody yells into the hole.

A man named Cutler doubted the efficiency of the method, according to the Review, but a man named Von Lengorke said it would work, and he would prove it. A party of hunters set forth after the rabbits, and came to a rabbit hole. Cutler guarded an entrance, while Abe Kleiman did the yelling.

The rabbit went out of the hole over Cutler's head, and away out of sight. Cutler admitted that he had been in the wrong, but he wanted to try to catch a rabbit, and pointing to a hole, said it looked likely.

As before, Kleiman yelled into the hole. Cutler got close to the hole, as that he would be sure of the rabbit this time. He saw a beast coming, and with both arms clasped it tightly when it struck his breast.

The onlookers heard a muffled yell such as a half-choked man might utter, and saw Cutler roll over backward, throwing the beast from him. Instead of a rabbit the beast was a scared skunk.

THE CELANDINE.

An Ancient Remedy for Cancer Now Almost Forgotten.

In a recent Science Echo attention was called to the use of Celandinum sap in the treatment of cancer successfully practiced by a St. Petersburg doctor. Mr. Leon Prince writes to the current number of Nature giving quotations from ancient writers showing that this plant was highly valued by them for medicinal purposes. Thus in a Latin work published in 1491 at Mayence, in speaking of the plant Celandinum majus, we read: "And for cancer of the mouth the powder of the root is compounded with the powder of roses and boiled with vinegar."

Again, in a Dutch edition published in 1644, of a work of Theophrastus, after describing a method of preparing a decoction of the plant, the writer goes on to say: "The use of this liquid is esteemed, which taken into the body corrects and dispels all corrupt pernicious humors." Great botanists like Linnaeus, Murray and others have, it seems, expressed in their writings astonishment at the oblivion into which a plant as energetic as the Celandine has fallen, while the ancients knew how to appreciate its qualities. After all, then, Wordsworth may be forgiven for writing two odes to the greater and lesser Celandine, respectively, and the scathing sarcasm bestowed upon him for so doing by Byron was scarcely merited.

GORGEOUS MALE SERVANTS.

Lord Mayor's Gentlemen's Uniforms to Clothe Dusky Monarchs.

I was told some amusing facts the other day about the lord mayor's men servants. It seems, says a writer in the Collector, that the present lord mayor has 15, eight of whom are over six feet in height. Their livery is amphi blue velvet, with heavy gold lace. These uniforms are only worn during the year of office, after which they become the property of the servants, who sell them to the firm which supplied them.

This is an ancient house, having the monopoly of supplying uniforms to the servants of city grandees. And what do you suppose becomes of these clothes eventually? They are sent out to African kings for wear on state occasions, at least the majority are, though a few are retained for the theaters.

But the most comical part of the whole affair is that the firm of clothiers is sometimes asked to send out a throne or a crown of gold to the potentates with the garments. And they do it, too; a city merchant will supply anything under the sun.

Ornaments Exchanged for Food.
During the Indian famine of 1879-1880 the mint at Bombay received $12,000,000 worth of gold and silver ornaments, sold by the natives for food.
